Fund Commentary

The Fund return for October 2020 was +1.9%, bringing total returns (net of all fees and expenses) since inception to the equivalent of 10.8% per annum. Cash levels ended the month at approximately 1%.

Key contributors to the month's returns included Coventry Group Ltd (CYG) (+1.5%), Consolidated Operations Group (COG) (+0.4%) and Fleetwood Corporation Ltd (FWD) (+0.4%), partly offset by City Chic Collective Ltd (CCX) (-1.0%).

A number of companies provided updates on trading in the first quarter of FY2021 (Q1FY21).

CYG provided an update at their AGM held during the month, noting generally that "trading performance continued to improve..." Sales in both the Trade Distribution and Fluid Systems dividends were reported as being up 4.8% and 12.7% respectively on the prior comparable period. The AGM presentation noted the operational leverage within the business as sales grow. Translated, this means sales growth should flow through to profits as fixed costs remain relatively stable. The company also cited potential for significant growth opportunities. All in all, we are pleased with progress at CYG, which is beginning to be reflected in an improving share price.

COG also provided a solid trading update, building on the positive full year results released a few months ago. Q1FY21 saw a 129% increase in net profits after tax and amortisation. Although the amount financed was down by approximately 15% on the prior period, the result from the Finance Broking & Aggregation (FB&A) division was up strongly due to cost reductions instituted as the pandemic took hold earlier in the year. We understand many of these costs savings are permanent and should lead to increased margins as loan volumes recover along with economic activity. SME business activity is reportedly strong in many sectors, especially those directly or indirectly exposed to government stimulus programs, viz infrastructure. We are pleased with this result and look forward to further updates as the financial year evolves.

The situation at FWD has been topsy turvy to say the least in recent weeks. In a letter accompanying the AGM Notice of Meeting, the company had written warning shareholders of "any activism by minority interests". By the end of the month, FWD had announced the resignation of the CEO. More announcements followed months' end. The AGM will be held on 18 November 2020. We expect the company will then provide an update on recent events.

CCX's share price fell as investors expressed continued disappointment of the failed attempt to acquire the US-based Catherine's online assets. We see this as evidence of board and management price discipline. While we too would have like to see the acquisition made (at the right price), we are glad to see a disciplined approach to acquisitive growth. The company currently holds cash equivalent to approximately 20% of its market capitalisation and has no debt. We believe the strategy remains sound and growth prospects are exciting.

Global markets remain at the mercy of the COVID-19 pandemic, the US presidential election outcome and continued China tensions, while the Australian market has been buoyed by its government's significant stimulus announcements. A significant proportion of the portfolio is likely to benefit from Federal, State and Local infrastructure spending.
