December 2021

Fund Commentary

Global equities closed the month higher, as investor sentiment seemingly improved following news that the highly transmissible COVID-19 Omicron variant may be less lethal than initially feared. Despite higher inflation readings in many parts of the world, expectations of economic recovery appeared to boost risk appetite for global stocks. The Polen Capital Global Growth Fund (the Fund) returned 1.85 per cent in December versus the MSCI ACWI in Australian Dollars, which rose by 1.43 per cent.

From its inception (15 March 2021) to 31 December 2021, The Fund increased by 20.32 per cent, after expenses. This led to out-performance against its benchmark by 0.31 per cent over the nine and a half months under review. For the month, an overweight to the information technology contributed to relative performance, led by Accenture. Similarly, an overweight to the health care sector supported relative performance, led by ICON. An overweight to the consumer discretionary sector also added to relative gains and from a geographic perspective, Western Europe was the region with the largest contribution to relative performance.

Top Completed Holdings (to 31 December 2021)

Company Name	Sector	Country of Domicile	Market Cap US$ B	Weight (%)
Microsoft Corp	Information Technology	United States	2,525	8.7
Alphabet Inc	Communication Services	United States	1,922	8.4
ICON PLC	Health Care	Ireland	25	6.6
Visa Inc	Information Technology	United States	464	5.9
Adobe Inc	Information Technology	United States	270	5.8
Accenture PLC	Information Technology	Ireland	273	5.4
Abbott Laboratories	Health Care	United States	249	4.9
Mastercard Inc	Information Technology	United States	353	4.6
Autodesk Inc	Information Technology	United States	62	4.6
Siemens Healthineers AG	Health Care	Germany	84	4.0

The top three absolute contributors to performance were ICON, Accenture, and Mastercard.

An underweight to the industrials sector detracted from relative performance. The Portfolio typically does not have exposure to companies within the sector since they often do not meet the Portfolio's criteria for long-term growth and profitability. Likewise, an underweight to the financials and materials sectors also detracted from relative performance.

Polen Capital continue to believe that the Fund is well-positioned for long-term growth. Despite the different styles that will inevitably drift in and out of favor during the coming quarters, Polen Capital feel confident that their disciplined and consistent investment approach will stand up well as they believe that the underlying earnings growth of the Fund will drive the long-term investment outcome. Polen Capital also believe the secular tailwinds that many of the businesses owned by the Fund are benefitting from will persist for years to come, serving as tailwinds to bolster growth.
